WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14, 1905.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

We wonder if Togo would get any points on warfare from the U. S. naval maneuvers now being conducted off the Atlantic coast.

They have found convict Clark's hat and his trousers, and they hope to come up with the rest of him soon. As a "trusty" Clark is quite shifty.

The high order of merit in the speaking contest of the local high school last evening was noted by all who attended, and the very large audience attests the interest which Barre people take in their public schools.

Judge Harvey of the Montpelier city court has raised his price for a plain drunk, and the man who can't pay for the first offense gets fifteen days instead of ten. We are reliably informed that the raise was not due to a shortage of material.

A Rochester man who killed two birds with one stone is not congratulating himself on his marksmanship. He shot a deer out of the season and hit his pocketbook hard at the same time. The bulls-eye cost him one hundred dollars, not to mention time and costs.

PUT IT IN THE SINKING FUND.
The suggestion by Mr. Houston in yesterday's Times, that the franchise tax received from the gas company be added to the sinking fund is a good one and the city council will doubtless give it the consideration due it. The gas company has not been doing business long enough to allow a very large gross income this year; in fact, most of its patrons have only begun to use gas within the past two months, and the 2 per cent that goes to the city will be small. If added to the sinking fund it will not increase its amount very materially, this year, but the business of the company is going to increase every succeeding year and the city's income from the same is bound to grow. If the custom of applying this sum annually to our sinking fund is established at the beginning, it will doubtless continue, and in the end will aid materially in taking care of our bonded indebtedness, which will soon begin to come due and have to be paid.

LOSS OF POPULATION IN HILL TOWNS.
A preliminary count of a census in Massachusetts shows that there has been a considerable falling off in the population of the back towns, or, as they are called, the hill towns. Out of thirteen reported by Chief Pidgin of the census bureau in that state, twelve showed a decrease. The percentage of loss ranges to .36 as the maximum, while the average percentage of loss is about .12. The section of the state which lost so heavily is in the western part, in the counties of Berkshire, Franklin and Hampshire, where there is little manufacturing. It is that section, too, which attracts the casual summer visitor who steals away to the cities when the chill of fall approaches and who does not figure in the population of the little communities. This decrease is not a recent affair, but the losses of the present census are only a continuance of several decades past. And at the present rate some of the towns will become depopulated. For instance, the town of Mount Washington had 196 inhabitants in 1895; now it has 87, a loss of 49. This is the most striking illustration of the city-ward trend of the population of the country districts.
Vermont small towns are not, then, the only losers in population through the movement, but Vermont as a state loses, while Massachusetts does not. The large cities of the latter form the magnet for the small towns, and the shifting population does not go out of the state. Vermont has no large centers, and the seekers for wide fields of work necessarily have to go out of the state, to Massachusetts and New York cities.

JINGLES AND JESTS.
Of Course.
Of course it is better to take the can of chicken to the picnic without the can-opener than it is to take the can-opener without the can of chicken, but a happy combination of both in the lunch basket will produce the best results.—Somerville Journal.

Mark Twain, in his lecturing days, reached a small Eastern town one afternoon and went before dinner to a barber's to be shaved.
"You are a stranger in the town, sir?" the barber asked.
"Yes, I'm a stranger here," was the reply.
"We're having a good lecture here tonight, sir," said the barber. "A Mark Twain lecture. Are you going to it?"
"Yes, I think I will," said Mr. Clemens.
"Have you got your ticket yet?" the barber asked.
"No, not yet," said the other.
"Then, sir, you'll have to stand."
"Dear me!" Mr. Clemens exclaimed. "It seems as if I always do have to stand when I hear that man Twain lecture."—Buffalo Enquirer.

While a horse may, in some cases, be a "vain thing for safety," yet one is more sure of reaching his destination the same day he starts, should there come a shower, with this animal than to trust to an automobile. No doubt Dr. M. J. Allen was of this opinion Monday afternoon, while en route from his home in St. Johnsbury to Montpelier by automobile. The shower made the clay roads impassable and the doctor was obliged to turn about at J. B. Pike's place and return to Marshfield, awaiting "drier" roads.

NOW IS THE TIME FOR HYOMEI
Far Easier to Cure Catarrh Now Than at Any Other Season.

Now is the time to use Hyomei, when the early summer days make it so easy to cure catarrhal troubles. The Hyomei treatment, breathed for a few minutes three or four times a day in May or June, will do good twice as quickly as it did in January, and nearly everyone knows that used faithfully then, it completely rids the system of catarrh.
Hyomei is a purely vegetable preparation whose active curative properties are given off when it is breathed by the aid of the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit. It destroys all germ life in the air passages, purifies the blood by supplying additional ozone, and its healing, volatile, antiseptic fragrance reaches every corner of the respiratory tract as no medicine taken through the stomach can possibly do.
The complete Hyomei outfit costs but one dollar, and consists of a neat inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest-pocket and will last a lifetime, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei. Extra bottles of Hyomei can be procured, if desired, for fifty cents.
At this season of the year, when catarrhal troubles can be so quickly and readily cured, the merits of the Hyomei treatment should be carefully investigated by everyone and a complete outfit should be in every home. Rickert & Wells give their personal guarantee with every Hyomei outfit they sell to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction. There is no risk whatever to the purchaser of Hyomei.
